FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Freedom of Speech

Social media has given a voice to the many. Sometimes for the good of humanity, but sadly more often than we like, it has given a voice to the many bad around the world. Freedom of speech is often cited by many who view controversial viewpoints. The question is should freedom of speech be regulated?

Xenophobia vs Racism

Xenophobia is "fear and hatred of strangers or foreigners or of anything that is strange or foreign." Racism has a slightly broader range of meanings, including "a belief that race is the primary determinant of human traits and capacities and that racial differences produce an inherent superiority of a particular race," and "a political or social system founded on racism." It should be noted that the meanings of these two words are sufficiently different that a person (or thing, such as a policy) may very easily be both racist and xenophobic.

Extremism

Is having different ideas always so bad? Civilised discussions and constructive inputs, no matter how unusual, should always be encouraged.

After all, even Gandhi was once considered an extremist!

Yet sometimes people see fit to use violence to make their voices heard.

Being an Active user

Regardless of whom you are, what your views are, we should always strive to be kind and considerate to one another. We never truly understand or appreciate the battles that someone else is facing behind the scenes.

This is Chadwick Boseman, the star of the Marvel's Black Panther. Sadly Chadwick died recently cancer, something that was kept a secret from so many. Being an active user, someone who comments, likes, etc we have a responsibility. Before his death, he was trolled and teased due to his weightloss. We know now, he was battling cancer all these years. Better to be kind always, don't you think?
